Subject: Governance – A New Subject at MSc Level In Pakistan – Helping Govt Departments/ Organizations to Get Qualified Persons

1. National University of Modern Languages (NUML) proudly enjoys the singular honour of being the FIRST University in Pakistan to introduce the subject of Governance at masters level. This two years programme started in August 2006, so far ten batches of morning session & three batches of evening session have passed out.

2. Subjects taught in this two years MSc degree programme deal with governance issues where students are acquainted with the functioning of the government departments. After undergoing this degree, the students easily get adjusted in governmental jobs. The subjects taught are:-

- Governance Theories Models & Practices
- Corporate Governance
- Multilevel Governance
- E Governance
- Global Governance
- Role of Media in Governance
- Financial Governance
- Disaster Management
- Public Policy
- Business Process Re-engineering
- Project Management
- Human Resource Management
- Research Methodology
- Social Accountability & Political Process
- State & Administrative Laws
- Political Philosophy
- Communication Skills (oral & written)
- Public Administration

3. A glance at the list of subjects would give an idea that such qualified students can become an asset to your ministry/division/department. With this information in backdrop, you are kindly requested to:-

- a. Nominate "In Service Employees" of your ministry for this course, who after the degree will perform much better as compared to a graduate of any other subject of Administrative Sciences.
- b. While inducting new staff in your ministry/division under the "Direct Induction System" preference may be given to students qualified in MSc Governance.
- c. While submitting your demand to FPSC for fresh induction of officers, you may give "Governance" as a desirable subject for new intake. The subject is likely to be added to the list of CSS Exam.

4. You are requested to give a wide publicity to this degree & detail a larger number of students for the session September 2013 & February 2014. Ministries /departments can recommend their in-service employees to get admission in the evening classes.
